Jessica Aurelia Carr is an estate planning, probate, and trust attorney. Jessica provides compassionate, respectful counsel with an emphasis on clear and accessible explanations of legal issues that put clients at ease.

Jessica co-founded North Sound Law Group in 2023. She enjoys working with individuals and families, building long-term client relationships, and serving the community both in and outside of her practice. Jessica believes in the power of estate planning for peace of mind and ensuring dignity in times of crisis.

Jessica has exclusively practiced in estate planning, probate and trust since 2012, and was a partner at Barron Smith Daugert before co-founding North Sound Law Group. She previously authored and collaborated on numerous publications in diverse fields including law, policy, and organizational evaluation. Jessica currently serves as the Probate and Trust Council Director for the Real Property, Probate and Trust Section of the Washington State Bar, overseeing the Section's legislative activity and continuing legal education. She is also the Vice President of the Northwest Washington Estate Planning Council. In 2022 and 2023, Jessica was selected to the Washington Rising Stars list published by SuperLawyers.
